

Math 1125 Syllabus

Course Time and Location:

Office Hours: MSB 401A

Section 2: MWF 9:00-9:50 MSB 311

TBA

Section 6: T Th 11:00-12:15 MSB 311

Text: Calculus, Early Transcendentals with WebAssign Edition 6e by James Stewart. ISBN 0-495-38426-7

Recommended preparation: Some exposure to the content of MATH 1060 (Pre-calculus) or the equivalent. Students cannot receive credit for MATH 1125 and MATH 1120, 1131, 120 or 1151. Students who have not passed the Calculus Placement Survey take this course rather than MATH 1131 or 1151.

Grading and Assignments:

Homework Homework will be administered and graded through WebAssign which will require the corresponding class code:

Section 2:	uconn	9592	3959
Section 6:	uconn	1590	9044

Quizzes In class quizzes will be given based on the WebAssign homework and lecture. Each quiz will be at most 20 min.

Projects From time to time group projects will be assigned. Groups will be of no more than 4 people and one project will be handed in per group. Each group may turn in the project as many times as they want to improve their score up to 1 week after the date it is assigned. This is a firm deadline.

Exams There will be two evening common exams held from 6-8 pm on October 7th and November 18th respectively at SCHN 55.

Grade Breakdown:

Projects	5%
Homework	10 %
Quizzes	10 %
Exam I (Oct. 7th @ 6PM)	20 %
Exam II (Nov. 18th @ 6PM)	20 %
Final	35 %

Make-up and Attendance Policies Makeups for exams will be excused only for medical reasons or school approved absences. In either case arrangements must be made before the exam, no exceptions. For medical cases, an email will suffice, however documentation must be provided on the first day back. Beyond that the exam cannot be made up.

Academic Integrity Cheating is forbidden, and will not be tolerated in any form whatsoever. Anyone caught cheating or aiding someone else in cheating will be subject to failing the assignment, or other possible grade reductions.